

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI PADOVA

The University of Padua, Department of Historical and Geographic Sciences and the Ancient World, is organising:

Summer School in Italian History and Culture that will take place in Padua, Italy, from 3 to 28 July 2023 (4 weeks).

It will include lectures, workshops and interactive group activities. Courses in Italian language will also be offered as part of the School.

For detailed information on course contents, fees, application form, etc. please refer to: <https://www.unipd.it/en/summer-term>

Deadline for applications is 28 February 2023.

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the University of Padua website, featuring the 800th anniversary logo (1222-2022) and the university's name. Below the navigation bar, a breadcrumb trail reads: Menu > Studying in Padua > Opportunities > Summer Term. The main content area is titled "Summer Term" and features a large image of a frescoed interior space with a blue ceiling. Below the image, the text reads: "Summer School in Italian History and Culture", "3 - 30 July 2023", and a paragraph describing the course: "The Department of Historical and Geographic Sciences and the Ancient World at the University of Padua offers you the opportunity to enrich your summer with one intensive course dedicated to Italian history and culture. The course will include lectures, workshops and interactive group activities and it will grant the participants with 6 ECTS. Courses in Italian language will also be offered as part of the School. The courses are open to Bachelor students (2nd/3rd year) or Master students (1st year) from universities across the globe." Below this text, there are three expandable sections: "Dates and location" (The Summer School will take place in Padua, Italy, from 3 to 30 July 2023 (4 weeks)), "Course contents", and "Course fees".